SYLLABUS

Introduction

Personality Development is a development of the organised pattern of behaviours and attitudes which make a person distinctive. It is concerned with the views of others and how they realize you and how you realize yourself. It occurs by on-going interaction of temperament, character and environment. Erik Erikson gave an insight full description as to how personality develops based on his extensive experience. He has identified eight phases of the socialisation process of an individual. Five of them occur during infancy, childhood and adolescence. Personality Development is different from self-development which is generally personal. They are related to each other.

But eastern philosophy in general and Indian spirituality in particular understands personality in a different context. Swami Vivekananda says, "Personality Development in the real sense means the development of a person's level of a person". Hence, he opines that a study of personality should start from a clear grasp of the nature of our mind, and how it functions. Mind has four fold functions likemanas, buddhi, chitta and ahamkara. Swami Vivekananda has identified four essential qualities for personality development. They are faith in oneself, courage, thoughts, attitude towards failures and mistakes, self-reliance and renunciation and service.
